DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-3 and 31-42, drawn to a microtitration plate, classified in class 422, subclass 102.
 - II. Claims 43-51, drawn to a microtitration plate, classified in class 422, subclass 102.
 - III. Claims 52-58, drawn to a process for the manufacture of microtitration plate, classified in class 264, subclass 250.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, functions, and effects. Invention II does not recite the particulars of Invention I, such as different plastic materials for the frame and vessels, wherein the material of the vessels are suited for PCR and/or permeable to oxygen. Invention I does not recite the particulars of Invention II, such as a rigid lid and at least one seal. Invention I may be well-suited for performing assays not sensitive to contamination by the atmosphere or non-hazardous to human contact. Invention II may be well-suited for performing toxic reactions or assays requiring materials sensitive to contamination by the environment. Invention II, which includes a lid, may be more appropriate for use in an analysis apparatus directly.

• Art Unit: 1743

3. Inventions I and II or III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, such as cutting the frame and vessels into shape and connecting them by adhesively bonding the frame to the vessels. Referring to Inventions I and III, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product, as Invention III does not recite the particulars of a rigid lid or at least one seal.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, Group I is not required for Group III, and Group II is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. A telephone call was made to Alexander Zinchuk on 2/24/2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

• Art Unit: 1743

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
